MUTUALLY INSPIRED

Dollar Bank is not owned by stockholders. We manage this institution to develop long-term relationships with our depositors and loan customers. We do not manage our daily activities for quarterly dividends paid to stockholders.

HERE FOR THE FUTURE

At its core, banking has always been a business of responsibility and earning the confidence of our customers. At Dollar Bank, we feel an intense responsibility to remain independent and provide products and services that grow out of understanding our customers' needs, both individual and business. That is what has set Dollar Bank apart in the minds of our customers and has made us one of the oldest continuously operating banks in our region. That's what will carry Dollar Bank into the future.
